What does it take to be a Trained Scout Leader? Regardless of position all adult Scout Leaders need to take New Leaders Essentials & Youth Protection. You must then take the Position Specific training for the leadership position you hold. Scoutmasters and Assistant Scoutmasters must also take Introduction to Outdoor Leadership Skills.

Basic Adult Leader Outdoor Orientation (BALOO) is designed to familiarize Cub Scout Leaders with the BSA's camping guidelines so they can have a successful pack camping trip. Every Pack must have at least one person who has completed this course.

Webelos Leader Outdoor Experience is designed to give Webelos Leaders a better understanding of the Webelos outdoor program and how to work with the boys on their Outdoor group activity pins. This is not a required course to be considered trained but is required to earn the Webelos Leader Training Award.

Courses not listed here but are on the Council Calendar include Wood Badge, Den Chief Conference, Troop Committee Challenge, Trainer Development Conference, and the University of Scouting.
